Please note the following statements are excerpts from the FAA Advisory Circular 20-62C entitled "ELIGIBILITY, QUALITY, AND IDENTIFICATION OF APPROVED REPLACEMENT PARTS":

Background:

An increasing amount of replacement parts (including standard parts), materials, appliances and instruments are offered for sales as being of aircraft quality and origin of these units are unknown. Users of such units are usually not aware of the potential hazards involved with replacement parts that are not eligible for use on certified aircraft. Frequently such units are deceptively advertised and presented as "unused," "like new," or "remanufactured." This implies that the quality of such units is equal to an original or appropriately repaired or overhauled.

The performance rules for replacement of parts and materials used in the maintenance and alteration of U.S. certificated aircraft are specified in Federal Aviation Regulations (FAR) 43.13 and FAR 145.57. The responsibility for the continued airworthiness of the aircraft, which includes the replacement of parts, is the responsibility of the owner/operator as outlined in FAR 91.163, FAR 121.363, FAR 123.45, FAR 127.131 and FAR 135.143 (a).

Identification of the Approved Parts:

Approved serviceable replacement parts are identified as follows :

1. By an FAA Form 8130-3 (Formerly FAA Form 186), Airworthiness Approval Tag. An Airworthiness Approval Tag identifies a part or group of parts that have been approved by an authorized FAA representative.
2. By an FAA Technical Standard Order (TSO) number and identification mark that indicates the part or appliance has been manufactured under the requirements of FAR 37.
3. By an FAA/PMA symbol, together with the manufacturer's name, trademark or symbol, part number, and the make and model of the type certificated product on which the part is eligible for installation, stamped on the part. An FAA Parts Manufacturer Approval (FAA/PMA) is issued under FAR 21.305 . The make and model information may be on a tag attached to the part.
4. By shipping ticket, invoice, or other document which provides evidence that the part was produced by a manufacturer holding an FAA Approved Production Inspection System issued under FAR 21, Subpart F, or by a manufacturer holding an FAA Production Certificate issued under FAR 21, Subpart G.
5. By a certificate of airworthiness for export issued by a foreign government under the provisions of FAR 21, Subpart N.

Know Your Supplier:

It has come to our attention that many reproduced parts and components, particularly instruments which have been manufactured by persons other than the original manufacturer, are available for purchase and installation on U.S. certificated aircraft. Often, an original part is used as a sample to produce duplicates. The reproduced parts appear to be as good as the original part; however, there are many unknown factors to be considered that may not be readily apparent to the purchaser, i.e. heat treating, plating, inspections, tests, and calibrations. All too often the faulty part is not discovered until a malfunction or an accident occurs.

Summary:

In accordance with FAR's, certification of materials, parts, and appliances for return to service, for use on aircraft, is the responsibility of the person or agency who signs the approval. The owner/operator, as denoted in paragraph 3 of this advisory circular, is responsible for the continued airworthiness of the aircraft. To assure continued safety in aircraft operation, it is essential that great care be used when inspecting, testing and determining the acceptability of all parts and materials. Particular caution should be exercised when the identity of materials, parts, and appliances cannot be established or when their origin is in doubt.

All Kelly Aero, LLC products offered herein meet the requirement of FAA Advisory Circular 20-62C.
